

LEAD AUDITOR TRAINING

Working with several of the Worlds leading aerospace manufacturers we are often asked to provide bespoke courses to tailor specific needs.

The week we are working on-site doing Lead Auditor training for a multinational tier one supplier for various components on a variety of military and commercial aircraft.

As a long term client, we have delivered a range of training courses across the globe being their trusted partner for each of their business units.

Lead Auditor training is a vital for those staff tasked in identifying and improving the Quality Management System. Our training ensures that the client ensures the QMS remains compliant, while also delivering value to the business.

Generally, these courses are attended by:

- Those who will be involved in conducting 1st, 2nd and / or 3rd party audits
- Those who wish to register with the CQI and IRCA Certified training auditor registration scheme.
- Those who are an IRCA registered auditor seeking re-registration to IRCA's ISO 9001:2015 auditor certification scheme.
- Internal quality auditors who are looking to enhance their quality auditing knowledge and skills, and those looking to achieve formal recognition for the skills and knowledge they possess.
- Managers who will be responsible for audit teams
- Quality managers, process owners and anyone that needs to understand the ISO 9001:2015 audit process.
- Anyone involved in the implementation or transition of ISO 9001:2015.
- Any serious quality practitioner, particularly those with a responsibility to design, implement and manage an audit programme for internal audits, supplier audits and other external audits from customers and/or certification bodies.

Key outcomes from the course include:

- Types of audit
- Audit objectives
- Audit scope and criteria
